

Norbury Library Update – August 2020

Construction works continue at Norbury Library with all contractors adhering to social distancing guidelines.

New slates have been fitted to the roof, and the roof glazing panels are about to be installed:

Inside, the café area is being installed and can be seen here to the rear of this view across the reception area:

Original features such as the screen and glazing to the new children's library are being refurbished, and combined with new elements like the wall-mounted radiator seen here by the main entrance. The doorway seen in the centre of this photo leads to the new accessible toilets:

The lift installation is complete:

The new flooring is about to be laid in the ground floor areas:
